PROPER SPIRIT MANIFESTED

May Day This Year an Important Civic Event.

F. P. Howard in San Mateo Times.

On May Day, which this year comes on May second, there will take place at Redwood City, a most important civic event; one which must appeal to the patriotism of every man and woman in the county, and which no citizen can overlook—the laying of the corner stone of our County Court House, and the attending exercises.

In conversation the other day with a man of more than the average intelligence, I asked him if he expected to go to Redwood on May Day and take part in the ceremony. The following is substantially his reply:

"When it comes to politics, you can count me out. Isn't the whole business rotten to the core, and every man in it on the graft and suffering from an itching palm? Anyway, you know very well that the county seat should be here, in San Mateo."

I take this means, not only of replying to my friend, but of answering any man who may hold a like view.

It is a fundamental principle of evolution that every unit is produced with a design. The germ cell of the jelly-fish, the wing of an insect, the bud of a plant, the driving wheel of a locomotive, the brain of a man—all have been produced by design and must fulfill their function, must do their duty and their work. If they do not, it is obvious what the result must be.

Now, in the case of my friend, who is certainly a unit created with a design, it happens that he, being a man, can choose for himself whether he will or will not do his duty. Perhaps the thoughts of great men as to what constitutes his duty may be interesting.

President William DeWitt Hyde, of Bowdoin College, in commenting upon the "Principles of Proportion," as laid down by Aristotle, says:

"The fundamental condition of a man's life, the test of good citizenship, the stuff that all virtue is made of, is the selection of some considerable sphere of common social good to be his end and aim."

As applied to American citizenship, I take this to mean that, unless a man makes a continued effort to do something for the general good, besides keeping out of jail and paying his taxes, he is not worthy of the franchise which a beneficent government gives him the right to exercise.

At the dedication of the Dewey monument, on the 14th of last May, I heard President Roosevelt express substantially the same truth, but, he added, "No man should expect or count on any reward for his devotion to the public good, other than the satisfaction of knowing he has done his duty."

Let us apply this as citizens of San Mateo county. What then is that duty which confronts us in relation to this very important civic Monday, the second of May?

It is, first of all, our duty to reconcile ourselves to the fact that the county seat is at Redwood City; to drop for all time any animosity which may have attended a struggle to change it, and to substitute therefor a strong, patriotic admiration and pride for our county seat.

Secondly, it is our duty never to forget that, after it is once established, our County Seat is to our County what our Capital is to our Country, and that she demands from us our utmost allegiance as units of American citizenship.

And, thirdly, it is our duty to go to Redwood on May Day and take an active, enthusiastic part in this ceremony; and prove by our presence there that we are thinking about the people of the county as a whole, and are anxious to demonstrate our regard for the fountain head of our local government.

This, my friend, is your plain duty, and it means enthusiasm and activity. Let me remind you that the force which is responsible for your being here is never idle, and sets the pace which you must run, if you are to assist your country in proving to the world the success of the democratic form of government, under a Consritution.

It is the knowledge that you are doing your small share of this work, that you will receive your reward, and your punishment can be nothing more than a sense of your own worthlessness as a citizen and a consequent lack of self-respect.

As to my friend's allusion to politics, which is so out of tune with the question involved, I will say that these observations of his are, generally speaking, the views of men who persistently neglect the franchise; they are the views held by men who best know where the evils of business and of government lie. These are the men who live and act on a philosophy entirely inconsistent with the spirit of our Constitution and our laws, and who even seem to assist in the debaachery of government by doing nothing.

These are the men who shirk an obligation, a duty, and a function, which was given them either by inheritance through generations of strife, or by the gift of naturalization.

How fortunate is the selection of May Day for this event! What could be more fitting than a ceremony of this kind upon a day which, for thousands of years, has been set apart by the human race as a day of celebration, at Nature's awakening? How can any man help but see the beauty and the poetry suggested by the laying of this corner stone on this day—the bringing into life, we may say, of a building which represents to us the center of a great principle—the principle of government. All nature at present is in blossom, her corner stones are being laid in this and adjoining counties with beauty which defies description. Just as surely as she shall reap her harvest from these blossoms, so shall we reap a like harvest in the development of our loyalty to our country, our state, our county, our city and our homes.

Highland Park, San Mateo county.

SEQUOIA AGAIN VICTORIOUS.

After a Brave Fight the Palo Altos Fall before the Heavy Guns of Sequoias.

The Judges Were Three Stanford Professors and Rendered a Satisfactory Decision.

By L. E. Hamilton.

In one of the best and most hotly contested debates between preparatory schools that I ever witnessed the Sequoia Union High School of Redwood City defeated the Palo Alto High Friday evening of last week. The contest was held in the assembly hall of the grammar school building, and the large auditorium was crowded to its doors.

This debate was different in one respect from any which I ever attended. Enthusiasm knew no bounds, and it was an enthusiasm which was as pleasing as it was intense. Long before the debaters appeared, songs, yells and cheers were passed from one rooters' section to the other, but the strangest part of it all was that each school rooted for and sang the songs of their opponents fully as often as their own. An enthusiast named Genochio vied with a Palo Alto leader, almost enveloped in red and green, in this generous spirit and the result was pleasing to both audience and participants.

The train from Palo Alto arrived about 6:30 p. m. and after a slight delay the red and green rooters were escorted to the assembly building where they immediately occupied the section assigned them. Redwood's students arrived soon afterwards and took their places on the opposite side of the hall and then the noise began; and such a din!

At 8 o'clock Professor Rosseter of Sequoia, the chairman of the evening and Professor Hill of Palo Alto, who acted as time-keeper, came upon the rostrum and they were followed immediately by the debaters who were greeted with rousing cheers by both schools.

Professor Rosseter stated the rules governing the contest and explained that that this was the first of the three yearly debates between Sequoia and Palo Alto for the possession of the debating trophy cup. He then announced the subject of debate for the evening, which was, "Resolved, that it would be for the best interests of Californians to divide the State into Northern and Southern California. The speakers were then introduced in their turn.

The Redwood debaters, Mr. Gerald C. Halsey, Miss Cecelia Watrous and Mr. Walter Boulware did excellent team work and, before the contest was half over it was quite apparent that they would win the debate. They confined themselves strictly to the subject, bringing their points out in a systematic and logical order, and using very forcible argument throughout. Their delivery was also one of the features of the debate, they speaking with great ease and with excellent articulation.

Palo Alto, on the other hand, did not do so well. Their contentions were well made but at times they wandered a little from the question at issue. Their delivery was not so good as that of their opponents and their rebuttal from an argumentative standpoint was rather weak.

Mr. Newlands of the Palo Alto High School opened the debate for the affirmative. He was the star of his team, bringing out his arguments in a quiet, business like manner. He argued for division from a political standpoint, his principal contention being the increase of two senators and the building up of California through the halls of Congress.

Gerald C. Halsey, Redwood's leader, opened for Sequoia and proved easily the best speaker of the evening. In a speech which, from either a logical, argumentative, or oratorical standpoint, was the best I ever heard presented by a high school student, he maintained that there is no need of a division of California, as the present administration fulfills all the functions of a successful state government; that division would be unwise from a commercial standpoint; and that the present conditions are satisfactory in every manner.

Mr. Brittan followed for Palo Alto. In a well rounded address he argued for division from an economic point of view. He stated that the only offices that would be doubled are the regular state officials. He also argued that increased efficiency and better educational and business advantages could be secured after a division.

Miss Cecelia Watrous then took the floor for the negative. Her argument was exceptionally well presented in a clear, distinct, concise manner. She argued upon the political phases of the question, proving that the change would be disastrous. She also brought out many evils which would result from division and showed how it would be detrimental to both North and South.

Mr. Lakin closed the argument for the affirmative. His main contention being that a division of the State was demanded by the diversity of interests and productions. He also argued that California is too large to secure a good basis for local government, but got off the question at times upon the subject of expansion. His address was full of cleverness, but he treated the contentions almost too lightly for a debate.

Mr. Walter Boulware was Sequoia's third speaker. His debate was most convincing, the arguments being very well stated. He dwelt upon the economic disadvantages of increased taxation and debt; upon the loss of concentration of our representatives, and upon the animosity which would be aroused, together with the unpopularity of the proposed measure.

Then came the rebuttals, the part of a contest which touches closely the intellect of a debater. This is the time when the audience holds its breath and waits in suspense for the unexpected to happen.

Mr. Halsey had the rebuttal for Sequoia and he showed a perfect familiarity with the arguments of his opponents as well as a generalship in gathering together the threads of the affirmative contentions which is seldom found in so young a sperker. He upset about all the principal arguments advanced by the three speakers from Palo Alto and handled the opposing points with a collegian's grasp.

On the other hand, Palo Alto's leader, Mr. Newlands, did not do so well. He delivered a good smooth speech, but unfortunately allowed Halsey to cleverly place him on the defensive. He spent most of his time in an attempt to patch up the affirmative argument from the attacks of the Sequoian and hardly touched upon the fabric advanced by the negative.

Three Stanford professors were the judges and they took but a short time in rendering their decision. Professor Snedden in announcing the result of the contest, stated that the judges were unanimous upon two resolutions: First, that both schools had every reason to be proud of their debating teams; and second, that the cup must be awarded to the Sequoia High School. Although it had been perfectly clear which way the the decision would go, the Redwood supporters went wild with excitement. They crowded upon the rostrum and fairly smothered the victors with congratulations and for a time pandemonium reigned.

Summing up the oratorical contest the Redwood team outclassed their Palo Alto opponents throughout all parts of the debate, and were consequently awarded argument, team work, composition, delivery and rebuttal. The decision was satisfactory to even the Palo Alto sympathizers and as a red and green rooter dashed past me shouting, "We are licked all right—but we'll win next year—Halsey graduates—Hurrah! I realized that a great battle had been won and lost.

A YACHT RACE ON JULY 4.

An Excursion Boat Will Accompany the Competitors.

The owners of the sloop Pet will try on July 4th to win the trophy won by the sloop Eclipse last year. The boats will soon be made in readiness for the race, and all possible precaution will be taken by the members of each crew to do their best to win. It is the aim of those interested to induce others to invest in boats, and Redwood may in a short time boast of a yacht club. The South Bay Yacht Club from Alviso will be here at that time and will escort our yachts out to the race, which will be a beautiful sight. An excursion boat will be hired for the occasion so that the public will be able to see the race. A free ball to all those purchasing tickets for the excursion will also be given on Saturday night, July 2, to which the visiting yachtsman will receive a cordial invitation.

Defendant Discharged.

The trial of McClelland Gilmore, the San Francisco liveryman who was charged with grand larceny in stealing two horses from James Curran last December, commenced in the Superior Court Tuesday. The same evidence produced at the preliminary examination was presented to the jury. The case was submitted Thursday afternoon and after deliberating nearly an hour a verdict of acquittal was brought in. District Attorney Joseph J. Bullock appeared for the prosecution and George D. Collins for the defendant. Mr. Bullock made a strong and convincing argument to the jury and presented a strong case. He worked diligently and with great perseverance to secure a conviction. It is understood the jury would not believe the testimony of Convict Meyer.

Joseph J. O'Brien, secretary of the Inter-County Weather Bureau presented the following letter and petition. On motion of McEvoy seconded by Eikerenkotter the prayer of petition was granted:

Inter-County Weather Bureau Promotion Committee.

San Jose, Cal., April 13, 1904.

To the Board of Supervisors, San Mateo County, Honorable Gentlemen: Your attention is respectfully called to the enclosed petition, which is submitted for your approval.

The petition aim to secure a more adequate weather observing and weather forecast signalling service for the district embraced therein.

Several efforts have been made in the past to obtain an improvement in the Weather Bureau service in the five counties mentioned, but owing to the fact that these attempts did not comprehend sufficiently the wants of the interests concerned nothing was accomplished.

As this undertaking is a very important one, involving in part a better recognition of the five counties embraced, and representing the first correct effort to induce the Government to grant what we are collectively entitled to, it is very important that a proper showing of interest should be made.

Believing you will approve this petition I beg to remain,

Sincerely yours,
Joseph J. O'Brien.

San Jose, Cal., Dec. 21, 1903.

To Willis B. Moore, Chief of the United States Weather Bureau, Department of Agriculture. Washington, D. C. Dear Sir — The undersigned officials, commercial bodies, property-holders, orchardists, growers, packers, business men, and citizens of Santa Clara, San Mateo, Santa Cruz, Monterey, and San Benito counties, of California, join in submitting for your earnest consideration and early approval this petition. On behalf, therefore, and in explanation we recite the following facts, all of which are relative to the economic utility of the Weather Bureau, and of especial interest to the progress of the agricultural, horticultural, and viticultural interests of the district embraced by these counties.

Your attention is respectfully called to the obvious fact that Santa Clara, San Mateo, Santa Cruz, Monterey and San Benito counties, adjoining each other, covering over 7,000 square miles, and situated in the central portion of California, southerly from San Francisco, do not receive or enjoy a weather forecasting service commensurate with the vast interests involved and equal with that which has been inaugurated in other sections of California.

The marked meteorological differences between the variations of the San Francisco climate and that of these five counties, and the great wealth vitally interested in this important matter, amounting to over $140,000,000, prompt us to petition you to the end of securing a local weather observing and forecast signaling service, to be established according to the joint views of representatives of the local interests and representatives of the Weather Bureau.

Regarding the measures and means to achieve the desired results, we advise the adoption and application of the following:

First, that immediate efforts be made to secure and bring into use the Electric Tower of San Jose, as a signal station, the same to be equipped with suitable apparatus for displaying the usual flag signals during the day; and with a powerful searchlight apparatus for displaying at night, during the necessary seasons, properly devised flash-light signals,

Second, that a special investigotion of the topography of the district referred to be undertaken by the Weather Bureau, with the view of ascertaining, determining and establishing a special observation station where it would be most advantageous to all concerned.

Third, that Congress be requested by the United States Department of Agriculture to appropriate a sufficient sum of money to meet and sustain the ends herein referred to.

The question of closing of certain streets near Colma in a tract which it is desired to use for cemetery purposes again came before the Board.

Attorney Charles Patton, representing the petitioners, asked the Board for a postponement for the reason that he would like the members to see the property and be convinced that there were no streets to close. They only existed on paper and no one would be injured in closing them. The Board could see for itself the necessity of abandoning the so-called streets.

Henry Ward Brown opposed the request for further continuance. He said the proposition was simply to establish a cemetery and fence in the streets. He said he was told by the Health Officer only yesterday that the promoters had already buried six bodies in the tract in defiance of the laws and ordinances of this county. He spoke of several of those who were present who owned property in the tract, whose holdings will be rendered practically valueless if the cemetery promoters are allowed to carry out their plans, and called upon the Board to protect the property rights of the residents owning homes on the tract in question. He said the total acreage of land used for cemetery purposes in San Francisco is 350, while in San Mateo county it is 780, "enough said he to bury the dead of the world." The majority of this acreage is in the vicinity of Colma. This tract contains 40 acres, and the streets sought to be closed represent no less than 25 additional. He said at the prevailing real estate rates these 25 acres would be worth no less than $250,000; "and," said he, "they ask this Board to take this amount from the public and to give it to a private corporation." Mr. Brown also called attention to the manner in which Joseph Hagen, the contractor for the burial of San Francisco's indigent dead, is carrying out his contract. "The wagon," he says, "comes to Colma almost every day with from 1 to 10 bodies, in charge of a boy. The bodies are dumped into the graves, one on top of the other, in utter disregard of decency and all health regulations. This should be looked into by the Board."

Attorney Patton replied by reading the law regulating the establishment o cemeteries, and reiterated his request that the Board visit the ground to see if the establishment of a cemetery there would be injurious to anybody. He claimed the county ordinance referred to by Mr. Brown is invalid and cannot be enforced by the county. He also said there are 75 petitions on file from Colma asking the Board to allow the petition, and that Mr. Brown was mistaken when he stated the new cemetery comprised 40 acres of streets. "As a matter of fact," he said, "we have bought 200 acres for a cemetery and here are only three acres of streets." He intimated that the bulk of the opposition came not from the people generally of Colma but from Mr. Noble of Cypress Lawn Cemetery, who fears his investment might suffer. He again asked the Board to go and look over the ground and if, after a critical examination, they should decide that one single person would be injured he would agree to the denial of his petition.

McEvoy said that in his judgment the Board should proceed in the matter inasmuch as it was expensive for the protestants to attend evrey meeting. Eikerenkotter was inclined to have the Board view the property.

Afternoon Session.

The Board met at 1:30 pursuant to adjournment during the morning session. Mr. Gilfus explained that he had lived for fifteen years on the property and built a comfortable home, and if a cemetery was established his home would be destroyed. He did not care to reside alongside a graveyard. McCracken thought the petitioners did not present its case inasmuch as it was not shown that ten of the signers were freeholders. After much discussion the petition was laid over to May 4th on motion of McCracken seconded by Debenedett.

Several streets in the San Bruno Park dedicated to the public by the Hensley-Green Company were accepted by the Board. The following resolution presented by Eikerenkotter seconded by McCracken was accepted:

Whereas, certain lands lying near San Bruno, in the County of San Mateo, State of California, have been subdivided into lots and blocks for the purpose of sale;

And whereas, a certain map showing a subdivision of two blocks into lots has been this day presented to the Board of Supervisors of said County of San Mateo, State of California, for the purposes of having said Board accept certain portions of avenues delineated on said map for and on behalf of the public, as dedicated to public use;

Now therefore, be it resolved, that that portion of those certain avenues known as Hensley, Green and Easton avenues, being avenues lying without the limits of any incorporated town, within the limits of the County of San Mateo, and as delineated on that certain map this day presented to the Board of Supervisors entitled "Map of Blocks 8 and 9, San Bruno Park, San Mateo County, Cal., (Part of Buri Buri Rancho)" and property formerly owned by the South San Francisco Land and Improvement Co. as per map of same now on file in the office of the County Recorder of San Mateo County, Cal., be, and they are hereby accepted by the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo, State of California, on behalf of the public, as dedicated to public use, and the Clerk of said Board of Supervisors is hereby authorized and directed to endorse upon said map the acceptance of said avenues.

Provided, however, and upon the express condition, that the County of San Mateo does not hereby become responsible or liable for any expense, cost or charge as to such avenues, drives or highways, or any thereof, whether for grading or macadamizing, or for other road work, or from personal or other damages that may result from the condition of any of the said streets or avenues.

The claim of Clark & Henery for $1665.50 was allowed and ordered paid from the General Fund.

No further business appearing the Board adjourned to Monday, May 2.

CHATHAM DECLARED WINNER

Elected Sheriff of San Mateo County by One Vote.

The Case Will Be Appealed and a Verdict May Be Rendered in Six Months.

Last Saturday Judge Murasky handed down a decision in the contested election case of Chatham vs. Mansfield in favor of the former. The Judge holds that R. S. Chatham was elected by one vote. The case will be appealed to the Supreme Court where, it is thought, a decision will be reached within six months after filing the necessary papers in the case.

Judge Murasky's findings and judgment are, in a condensed form, as follows:

FINDINGS.

The action came on regularly to be heard on the 8th day of December, 1902, Hon. Frank J. Murasky, Judge, presiding. George C. Ross, attorney for plaintiff and contestant, and Edw. F. Fitzpatrick and C. W. Eastin, for defendant.

That the several Boards of Judges and Boards of Election of the several precincts of said County of San Mateo, and the several members and officers thereof, were guilty of malconduct at the said general election held in said county of San Mateo on the 4th day of November, 1902, in that they did not truthfully or correctly read or count or tally the votes and ballots cast and voted at said election in so far as said plaintiff and defendant, as candidates for the office of sheriff, were voted for by or through said ballots; that such malconduct affected both the plaintiff and the defendant; and that such malconduct was such as to procure and did procure said defendant and respondent to be declared by the Board of Supervisors of said county of San Mateo to be elected to the office of sheriff of said county when he had not received the highest number of legal votes therefor, and when the plaintiff and contestant had received and did receive at such election the highest number of legal votes and ballots cast and voted for said office of sheriff.

That all the ballots returned by the respective Boards of Election of all the precincts of said County of San Mateo were brought before said court and examined by the court and a recount had and made in and by said court of and concerning the votes and ballots, two thousand eight hundred and thirty-nine (2839) in number, purporting to have been cast for said plaintiff and defendant for the office of sheriff; that upon such examination and recount the court rejected from the count four hundred and two (402) of the said ballots as illegal and not lawful ballots to be counted for either the plaintiff or defendant, on the ground that some bore double crosses, or erasures, or other distinguishing marks, or marks of identification, or were not stamped with the official stamp or cross (x); that upon one hundred and seventy (170) of such rejected ballots contestant claimed the name of plaintiff appeared as having been voted for, for said office; that upon two hundred and thirty-two (232) of such rejected ballots respondent claimed the name of defendant appeared as having been voted for, for said office; that none of said four hundred and two (402) rejected ballots were counted for either plaintiff or defendant; that the remainder of the ballots so returned and counted by the court, to-wit, two thousand four hundred and thirty-seven (2437) ballots, were recounted and retallied by the court as legal votes and ballots cast at said election for the plaintiff or the defendant for the office of sheriff; that of said two thousand four hundred and thirty-seven (2437) legal ballots, so recounted and retallied by the court, one thousand two hundred and nineteen (1219) thereof were cast and voted for said plaintiff and contestant for said office of sheriff; that of said two thousand four hundred and thirty-seven (2437) legal ballots so recounted and retallied by the court, one thousand two hundred and eighteen (1218) thereof were cast and voted for said defendant and respondent for said office of sheriff; and that of the legal ballots cast and voted at said election the plaintiff and contestant received and there was cast and voted for him for the office of sheriff one more legal ballot than was cast or voted for the defendant for said office.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW.

As conclusions of law from the foregoing facts the court finds that said plaintiff and contestant is entitled to the judgment of the court herein:

1. That plaintiff and contestant was at the election hereinbefore mentioned duly and legally elected to said office of sheriff of the County of San Mateo.

2. That said defendant and respondent was not at said election legally elected to said office of sheriff of the County of San Mateo; and

3. Annulling and setting aside the alleged election of defendant and respondent to said office of sheriff.

Let judgment be entered in favor of plaintiff and contestant and against defendant and respondent in accordance herewith.

JUDGMENT.

By reason of the law and the premises, and the findings and decisions aforesaid, the court does here and now pronounce judgment in the premises and does order, adjudge and decree, that said plaintiff and contes ant R. S. Chatham was at the general election held in said County of San Mateo on the 4th day of November, 1902, duly and legally elected to the office of sheriff in and for the said County of San Mateo, State of California; that said defendant and respondent J. H. Mansfield was, not at said election legally elected to said office of Sheriff of the County of San Mateo; that the alleged and pretended election of the defendant and respondent J. H. Mansfield to the said office of Sheriff in and for said County of San Mateo, State of California, be, and the same is hereby, wholly annulled and set aside, and without costs against said defendant.
